

Hopevale FIM helping out with Pride of Place

FIM employee, Rhianna, working hard for Pride of Place

Pride of Place is an initiative designed to target the presentation of houses and gardens, as well as cleaning up of public spaces. Having a clean, neat environment will help make people proud of their surroundings and in turn positively affects social norms.

FIM employees, Jenni and Rhianna have been doing their bit for Pride of Place in Hopevale.

George Dick a longtime FIM customer used his Stolen Wages payout to spruce up his house. Not only did the girls get stuck into the painting but they also took George into Cooktown and picked out over $2000 worth of furnishings to go with the new paint job.

The Hopevale FIM office is now fielding request from other Hopevale residents wondering when they can get their houses done. As we like to say join FIM and we can talk about making your dreams come true.
